inbound.emea.cdw.hp.com/hplearthobuilder/servlet/ComponentDAVFaces?rev=1349 11 Sep 2019 20:22:30 Frequently asked questions. Which software and hardware do I need? How does the David LASER scanner software work? The David LASER scanner works in two ways. It uses a CCD (Charge-Coupled Device) camera to record reflected light which is then processed by the DAVID LASER software to create a 3D model of the scan. The David LASER scanner uses a VCSEL (Videocard Source Emitter Laser) or a Nd YAG laser as a light source to emit an outline of the surface and is then processed by the DAVID LASER software to create a 3D model of the scan. The DAVID LASER software is the software that is installed on the DAVID LASER scanner. It is the DAVID LASER scanner's camera and laser scanning software in one. It comprises two stages of scanning: capturing a 2D image with the DAVID LASER software using a digital camera and processing that image and the pattern created by the emitted light to create a 3D model of the scanned object or space. The DAVID LASER software uses multiple resources such as the database of Objects, Data Types, Modelling, and the Image Processing and Analysis Module. Objects are not only a visible object but they can be things such as walls, furniture, or built into buildings such as tunnels, bridges, and elevators. The DAVID LASER software contains various objects that can be used to create 3D models of objects. Data Types include room, furniture, building object, door, window, and light. Modelling means that data can be entered into the DAVID LASER software to create virtual 3D models and images, such as walls and tables. Image Processing and Analysis Module is used to analyse the scanned images. These images can be converted into coloured 3D models, such as walls, windows, doors, and furniture. em.895.1280.com/share/anaculator/ 11 Sep 2019 20:19:59 metrum.net 11 Sep 2019 20:19:59 Whois Status: Under Revision 11 Sep 2019 20:19:59 What Is A Rock Band?
