Archived for the Sedona travel Portal Sedona News, Sedona Updates, Sedona Events, Sedona Weather and Sedona Spots Hello everyone! Thank you for everyone's excitement for PUBG Mobile update 1.31. We'd like to share an important announcement: We are currently working on a post-apocalyptic (and therefore more challenging) update which will be released next week. Unfortunately, the S.V.E. team has already started working on the next big update to PUBG Mobile in advance of the release of that update so we are unable to provide any details regarding the timeframe for the update. We'd like to give you some insight into our new update and the reasons behind it. First and foremost, we believe that it is important for us to listen to our community and react to what they are saying about our game. We've read hundreds of comments on our forums and watched the discussions on stream. We are ready to implement all the suggestions that our community has given us. Another thing we are listening to is the feedback from our players who have played PUBG Mobile 1.31. The changes to the game have been mostly positive, so our players are excited for the next update and are looking forward to challenging the next round of maps. Finally, we've begun to notice a trend in the competitions that we're seeing within the PUBG Mobile community. We're working on a number of different improvements for our game and we are certain that our next update will bring changes that improve the competitiveness of our game. As a result, we've decided to implement an important change to the game in the upcoming update: Previous Assault Update We believe that there are players who are not yet ready to tackle our current round of battle maps and will be especially affected by the new match type. Therefore, we

The HERO5 Black is the latest GoPro with the big improvement in picture and sound quality. Noise-reducing microphone: For the first time, the HERO5 Black has a dedicated stereo microphone dedicated to recording clear, stable video with audio quality. The new microphone has a wind screen to adjust its sensitivity and another to adjust its gain. The result is crystal clear video without any sound disruption. Whether you can hear your voice while shooting video is your personal choice. If you want to increase your volume level, you can easily do it on your computer after uploading your videos. Auto low light mode: The HERO5 Black is the first GoPro to have an automatic low light video mode. When you are recording under fluorescent lights with other objects that block the sun, the camera will automatically adjust the settings to get the best video quality. The camera will decrease the sensitivity and decrease the frame rate to record videos without any loss of picture quality. The result: bright, crisp videos. Geotagging: When you are shooting beautiful landscapes or interesting places while traveling
